Fall's Coldest Weather Hits Most of U. S.

By The Associated Press

The coldest weather of the fall season chilled areas from the Rockies to New England and into parts of the south today.

The blast of chill air from Canada was accompanied by the season's first snow falls in some areas. Rain hit parts of the far south.

The weather bureau said it would probably get colder tonight in some of the north central states.

It was near zero early today in parts of Montana and North Dakota, with a reading of around 10 below at Cut Bank, Mont., and Minn., N. D.

The subfreezing line extended over the Rockies eastward into northern Illinois, Chicago had its first snow of the season—light fall—and freezing temperatures.

The Southeast and far Southwest were outside the rim of the wintry weather. But temperatures dropped to 40 above in Texas and it was the same in Nashville, Tenn. At the same time it was 78 in Brownsville, Tex., 73 in Miami, Fla. in Atlanta and 51 in Los Angeles.

Snow also fell today in the Rockies and Minnesota. There was an extensive rain area from southern New England and the Middle Atlantic states southwestward to the Ohio and Tennessee valleys, as far north as southern Lake Erie and central Indiana and southward to the lower Mississippi valley.

Other wild animals in the heavily wooded and mountainous region.

Tidwell said he received an offer from the Big Game Hunters of America at Kansas City to fly members here to capture the prey alive, but the sheriff decided Arkansas could handle the situation.

He expressed doubt that the monkeys would survive the night. They were shivering in trees near the wreck scene, but couldn't be enticed from their perches.

High religious mass was sung at Mena, yesterday morning for the little victim of the lion. Father Jesse Cheney conducted the service at St. Anne's church. Funeral expenses were paid by the circus.

NO NEWS CONFERENCE

Washington, Nov. 1.—President Truman decided to forego today his usual Thursday news conference.

The White House said he did so because of the visit here of Britain's Princess Elizabeth and her husband, Philip.

The first of 11 huge stone heads discovered in Southern Mexico was recorded in 1838 by a native workman.

The hare-not the rabbit-takes readily to water and one instance is recorded of an animal swimming a mile in salt water.

Korean Youth Permitted to Pass

Somewhere in Korea, Oct. 31 (UP)—Cpl. Harry E. Barnes, Blaineville, Ind., was on road guard duty to check civilians moving south.

He stopped a civilian carrying a big bag and with two huge pistols hanging at his belt. The "little man" handed him a paper it said:

Subject: Pass.
To whoever it may concern. This youngster, age eight, is being taken care of by men of Co. G, 19th Inf. Reg., and is hereby granted a 15 day leave of absence. His destination is Seoul. All assistance given this lovable little chap — transportation, candy, chewing gum, a pat on the back, or any other favor — will be greatly appreciated.

The following items, which are the property of Rhibe, are hereby authorized for his tour journey:

One hot black cowboy; two pistols, a long Cassidy model; one belt, Roy Rogers model; one pair boots, size very small; one box candy assorted, all colors; three bars of soap, pink, green and white; one watch.

Cpl. Barnes gave the boy his pass and waved him on down the road to Seoul.

29 Injured When Gas Explodes

Pittsburgh, Nov. 1—(AP)—A gala Halloween celebration turned into terror last night as four gas explosions injured 29 persons and cast flaming debris over hundreds of parading mummers and spectators.

Twenty of the injured were taken to hospitals but nine were released later. Three are reported in critical condition from burns and cuts.

The earthshaking blasts let go in the basement of a confectionery store and dwelling house in the Beltzhoover area of Pittsburgh, a South Hills district where the Halloween parade reached the end of its march.

Seven persons were treated at nearby doctors' offices and two received first aid at the scene. Fire Chief James T. Coslett said a broken gas main in Max Davidson's confectionery store set off the explosions. They were felt four blocks away.

Coslett estimated property damage at $20,000. A roaring fire broke out after the first blast and gutted the two-story building. Davidson's wife, Rose, 62, is among those critically injured. She was in her apartment over the store.

Others on the critical list are Deputy Fire Chief Stephen Adley, 46, and Fireman Harry Pemberton, 47. Both suffered burns.

A wall caved in and pinned Mrs. Jim McCafferty, an expectant mother, in her auto for nearly an hour. Three friends were with her.

After firemen freed Mrs. McCafferty she said:

"When the explosion happened it seemed as if the roof lifted off first, then a wall gave away and crashed down on our car."

Between 200 and 300 children wearing masks and gas costumes already had fallen out of the parade and were at a recreation lot across the street when the blasts started.

Escaping gas hampered fire fighters for a time. A fireman was knocked off the roof of the building by the second blast. He was not identified.

The last sections of the parade were rerouted and children were

Tone Free on $500 Bond

Hollywood, Oct. 31 (UP)—Frank Tane, who moved from eastern society circles to portrayals of the perfect gentleman on the screen, was free on $500 bond to-day pending his trial for spitting in a lady's face.

He pleaded innocent yesterday to assault and battery charges arising from an incident at Ciro's night club where he allegedly approached gossip columnist Florabel Muir, made some nasty remarks then spit in her face.

He was released on $500 bond and told to report for trial on Dec. 11.

Protestants Rap Truman on Vatican Deal

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—The policy-making board of America's largest Protestant group says President Truman has done "a grave disservice to our country" in appointing an ambassador to the Vatican.

The general board of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. said in a statement yesterday.

"Only a prompt withdrawal or rejection of the President's proposal can save this country from a most unfortunate and unnecessary controversy with reactions that will be cumulative as the issue becomes more widely recognized."

The board's request that Mr. Truman withdraw or the senate reject the nomination was made at an emergency session.

The statement, disclosing any religious prejudice, protested what it termed "an alarming threat to basic American principles."

It called the nomination "wrong in principle, useless in practice, and a serious disservice to the national unity of the American people."

The board's statement did not mention the name of Gen. Mark W. Clark, whose nomination as ambassador to the Vatican was sent to the senate by President Truman on Oct. 20. Congress adjourned that same day, without action on the nomination.

The national council's board authorized the council's president, presiding Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, to appoint a committee to carry out a "program of education" based on the board's statement.

Bishop Sherrill indicated he would announce the committee membership next week. The committee will seek to coordinate Protestant opposition to the ambassadorship.

The board is composed of 125 representatives of 29 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches. It was announced that the 80 officers and members of the board who attended the five-hour special session approved the statement unanimously.

Another development on the issue came yesterday in Gary, Ind., where the American Council of Christian Churches urged a Protestant protest pilgrimage to Washington.

The council, which claims a membership of 3,000 churches, called for a pilgrimage next Jan. 24. The proposal was made in a resolution by delegates, representing 14 Protestant denominations at their 60th annual national convention.

The Washington pilgrims would visit their senators and send a delegation to President Truman, according to the Rev. W. W. Breckbill, of Altoona, Pa., general superintendent of the Evangelical Lutheran church.

Barbara Payton Tells of Slaying

Los Angeles, Nov. 1 (AP)—Barbara Payton told a federal grand jury yesterday what, if anything, she knows about a gambler killed last night but she wouldn't tell anyone else.

The actress spent 40 minutes with the grand jury but declined comment when she came out.

Miss Payton was accompanied to the federal building by her husband, Franchot Tone. He is at liberty under $500 bond pending trial on a battery charge preferred by a newspaper columnist. Flora Del Mar, she says he spit in her face and kicked her shins in an argument at a night club Tuesday.

The actress provided an alibi for a man questioned about the 1950 slaying in Fresno of Abrahamian, a member in a probe of a narcotics case. She corroborated Stanley Adams' story that he spent part of the fatal day in Barbara's apartment. Adams later was convicted of perjury.

The U. S. Bureau of Land Management says Hagerman, stock-killing, spread of the Southwest, can be checked by keeping the soil fertile and covered with other vegetation.

McClellan River Bill Is Signed

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—A bill authorizing the government to provide a right-of-way for a section of a protective levee along the lower White river in Arkansas has been signed by President Truman.

The bill, signed yesterday, was sponsored by Senator McClellan (D-Ark.).

It places levees in the White river backwater area under the same conditions prevailing in other areas of the lower Mississippi valley.

It will relieve the U. S. of future maintenance costs, a senate public works committee report said.

Labor May Be Stalled in Blocking Act

By HAROLD W. WARD
(For James Marlow)

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP) — Congress, by the simple expedient of opening up one provision of the Taft-Hartley law, may have blocked a direct federal attempt to force unions to bargain.

The provision, which became effective on August 22, 1947, allows the AFL and CIO to sue for injunctions to prevent the use of force in labor disputes.

But that power is now being used by the AFL and CIO to force the government to bargain with them.

The AFL and CIO have been successful in getting the government to bargain with them in a number of cases.

Conservatives Elect Own Member

London, Oct. 31 (AP) — Winston Churchill's Conservatives elected one of their own number as speaker of the new house of commons today in the first contest for the office since 1945.

The contest was won by Morrison, a former minister of agriculture.

The outcome cut the new government's overall majority from 13 to 17, since the speaker is traditionally neutral.

A group of Labor party insurgents incited the contest over the speaker.

The vote was 338 for Morrison and 321 for the Labor candidate, James M. Morrison.

The contest plainly meant that the labor party intends to fight the new government on every issue, including the speaker.

In a speech to the house before the voting began, Prime Minister Churchill accused the laborites of repudiating an original agreement to let Morrison take office unopposed.

Churchill said this agreement was made on Monday.

He said the laborites unexpectedly denied that he had committed his party to support Morrison.

Butler (R. N. B.) Butler has said he will seek re-election.

Peterson will thus be opposing the man whose campaign he managed when Butler first went to the senate.

London, Neb., Oct. 31 (AP) — Val Peterson, 46, also is completing his third term as Nebraska's chief executive, being filed for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator.

Peterson, widely known as an advocate of the "Pascaden plan" for Missouri basin development, took the lead over his opponent, Hugh

Reds Offer Own Plan for Buffer Zone

Muninn, Korea, Oct. 31 (AP)—Red truce negotiators offered today to create a buffer zone along the front version of the present battle line in Korea.

They called it their "last and best proposal."

The surprise Red offer approached demands of the United Nations command. It brought the two sides closer together than they ever have been on the question.

Hopes mounted in this line today. But a U. N. command spokesman said there were too important differences between the new Red offer and the Allied proposal.

1. The Red's want to keep the 38th parallel line. The Allies want to take it over.

2. The Communists' version of the battle line is 100 to 150 miles south of where the Allies place it.

These differences were pointed out by Col. Andrew J. Farnes, chief U. N. liaison officer.

Kinney said there were certain other things the U. N. negotiators could not accept immediately.

But, he added, the Communists offer brought the buffer zone question nearer to a solution than at any time since June talks first started July 10.

Red negotiators submitted their plan unexpectedly near the close of Wednesday's meeting of truce subcommittee in a radio-addressed tent at Panmunjom. The plan was outlined on a map.

Three times, Kinney said, the Red delegates said this was "their last and best proposal."

"This makes us very suspicious," Kinney said.

Nevertheless, Kinney said, the new Red proposal "is the biggest step I've seen" for solving the buffer zone question.

The Communist proposal was based on their version of the current battle line. Negotiators call it "the line of contact." The buffer zone would be 2 1/2 miles wide.

The U. N. command has insisted all along that the cease-fire line be based on the battle front. The current Allied proposal is for a buffer zone 2 1/2 miles wide.

Originally, the Reds demanded a buffer zone on the 38th parallel. That is the old political boundary between North and South Korea.

Most of the battle line is north of that. Last week the Reds modified their plan to a demarcation line running five to 15 miles south of the battle line.

Fighting almost vanished from the ground front Wednesday. Only action reported in the U. S. 8th Army's afternoon communique was a one-hour fight between a company of 40 Chinese and 20 U. S. troops southeast of Kumsong on the central front. The Reds were beaten back.

There was no prior hint of Communist capitulation on location of the buffer zone.

Wednesday morning, as rain trickled through holes in the conference tent, subcommittee negotiators argued over what should be done about Kaesong.

Communist newsmen outside the tent said there would be no agreement if the Allies insisted on taking over Kaesong. In their original demands, as publicly announced, neither side showed an interest in holding this ancient Korean capital.

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—Ralph Hoar, labor leader, said today that the $2 million sparks memorial hospital construction job here has been resumed.

Construction was halted Oct. 27 by a walkout of A. F. L. Sheet Metal Workers in a disagreement over the hiring of three non-union workers.

Other members of A. F. L. craft went to the painters' union to complain about some routine injustice.

Unions in Nevada, in more spectacular in some details but in the whole, is characteristic of the American Federation of Labor.

Only by means of his power as a labor leader was Hoar enabled to bring this emergency of forces to a halt.

He refused to consider his case at the recent annual convention in San Francisco. A short while before the national convention, the Nevada state federation in Reno rejected and chased out of carwash two newspaper reporters assigned to cover its proceedings and then refused to accept a resignation which had been placed in Hoar's hands by Charles Hughes, a representative of William Green.

Green, always loath to take action against criminals in the A. F. L., had accused Hoar's criminal conduct in Las Vegas and his long record as a stick-up man and veteran jailbird until the facts were independently published last spring.

Only then did he send an agent into the field to inquire. But after his agent had confirmed the worst, the A. F. L. did nothing and Hoar still remains in control of a tightly organized group of criminals in absolute command of the federation in Clark county. They also exert a strong influence in the state as a whole.

Hoar is the most violent of the racketeers in this group, but there are three others in the ruling set, one of whom has a worse record of attacks and convictions than Hoar who has made a career of crime and prison life since 1930.

The FBI record of Hoar's colleagues, known variously as James Klor, Harry Ryan, Thomas Giles and James Bailey, includes charges of manslaughter, robbery, larceny and jailbreaking in a career which began in 1921.

Harry De Pauli, the president of the state federation of labor, was a candidate for reelection at the state convention and needed Hoar's votes to win. He paid no fee to discuss the charges against Hoar, who told the convention about the resignation which Green's agent had placed in his hands.

After the reporters were put out of the convention, two of them remained near the closed door trying to learn what action would be taken to rid the federation of criminals in its high command. One of them was told to "get the hell out of here and stay out" and was shoved away by goons on guard.

Soon after this convention, Hoar got drunk, wrecked his automobile in a wild exploit which endangered many other lives, and was charged with drunken driving, possession of a pistol found in the car and a third offense, possession of a pistol by an ex-convict, which is a felony.

The identification numbers had been filed off the gun.

Richard Hardy, a member of the plumbers' union, of which Hoar is business agent, was Hoar's companion on the ride. He claimed that the gun belonged to him and in this way seemed to have taken Hoar off the hook. He was fined $20 for illegal possession of the gun but was re-arrested for perjury when evidence was presented that the gun was not his and that he had lied under oath in addition to all his other official positions which establish his power as a blackmailer and extortioner. Hoar is president of the metal trades council of Clark county. He is known as a dangerous gunman who shoots without the slightest hesitation or provocation. The fact that he has a record as a killer is due only to his own bad aim or his victims' good luck. He also beats his wife.

Troy O. Nance, the secretary-treasurer of the laundry workers' union in Las Vegas, is the editorial interpreter for Hoar and the ring. Writing in the Nevada edition, the official organ of Hoar's central labor council, he exulted in the fact that five delegates remained seated when the overwhelming majority voted to reject Hoar's resignation at the state convention. In the same spirit, he reported that when De Pauli demanded that those who favored Hoar's resignation should stand up and be counted, the five lost their nerve and stayed down. Hoar is editor of the Nevada Citizen and defends himself at the expense of the rank and file.

A special agent from the national headquarters of the plumbers and steamfitters who "investigated" Hoar's reign presented a glowing report, Local 525, ruled by Hoar, had the highest wage scale of all the locals, there were no delinquents on the books, and "if all our locals were conducted in like manner my job as international representative would be a vacation."

He ignored Hoar's indictment, now confirmed by the jury's verdict, for using the local as a weapon for extortion and his sentence of two years for shooting a union painter in 1950 because this man

Research of State to Get Attention

Little Rock, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Arkansas Economic Council-State Chamber of Commerce has approved a new program aimed at action to turn research into reality.

Meeting here yesterday, the AEC turned over an investigation of Arkansas' economic potentialities and assigned to any committee. The policy group, instead, will determine the form this research program will take.

Major programs approved include: Taxation—A broad educational program on the Arkansas tax structure and specific tax problems, and continued work on a comparative analysis of expenditures by state governments.

Industrial development—An educational program aimed at establishment of a venture capital pool; a statement of criteria for industrial development; land use and health and welfare.

A new study, highway planning to equip Arkansas' natural increase of population for the years 1951 through 1960.

Marketing—A program designed to encourage the supplying of Arkansas markets with Arkansas products; advise interested groups in promoting new agricultural enterprises; publicize common factors of business success and summarize marketing opportunities in Arkansas.

Tourist industry development—a project to prepare material for publication by the Arkansas tourist council; seek utilization of federal land adjacent to federal reservoirs; identify places of historical interest in Arkansas.

Land use—A study to utilize college of agriculture research which will outline factors which influence types of farming, show changes which have occurred in farming, and recommend changes for improving existing types and systems.
